Social and Interpersonal Factors Relating to Adolescent Suicidality

Dr. Cheryl King and her co-author Christopher Merchant provide an extensive review of the literature related to adolescent suicidality, especially the social and interpersonal factors associated with suicide. Due to copyright reasons, interested persons are directed to find the original article at the Archives of Suicide Research.